

Susanne goes Shopping ...

... on January 30, 2010 in her favorite Nuremberg supermarket and takes some pictures:

This gentleman is struggling with an automat to return his empty bottles in order to get the deposit

See the UFO like yellow lamps!

A lady probably from Turkey buying her deep frozen stuff

Nothing you cannot buy at a Marktkauf supermarket

Nutella (our favorite spread)

Beers (in real glass bottles)

Diary products

Butcher's counter with famous German sausages

At the end of the expedition: Susanne's caddy & bags in front of the city wall on the way back home into the old city

The following snapshots are from the same week. They have nothing to do with shopping, but are a kind of seasonal canine fashion show:

Trixi wearing a signal red overall to make her seen in the snow

Mega-cool V.I.P. (that's his real name!) in leather & fur
