rijo's* Sponsorship Program

Kind words are good for the soul, money can be reinvested: For almost three decades, rijo-research.de has been offering exclusive historical and current information, worthwhile texts and interesting pictures – independent in terms of topics and finances.

While others constantly demand public funding, essentially dipping into the pockets of taxpayers without asking, and their ambitious online projects, filled with secondhand material, end up as ruins or abandoned construction sites on the web after a few months, we take a different approach and manage the work and expenses ourselves.

It's nice to receive fan mail, but you can express your gratitude in a more sustainable way: With a donation, you contribute to the maintenance and further expansion of rijo-research.de. As a thank you, right here we are publishing a list of sponsors (see page 2) who support our efforts (even without tax receipts, we're no club) and appreciate the added value of our content – help us providing essential facts and stories!
